The Committee on Appeals made several reports, one of which we think quite interesting, in assmuch as it seems to take the power of inflicting punishment for Masonic offenses out of the hands of the Lodge, and vesting it in the Master, a proceeding we must protest against, as reversing all known Masonic law and usage on the subject. Charges and specifications were preferredisgainsts Brother which the Lodge voted to reprimand him; the W. EDDINS the Lodge. It does not make any difference if he never takes the Secretary's certificate. He may not care for it. After his resignation is accepted, no dues accrue against him, and he is in no sense a member of the Lodge. If he afterwards takes a certificate it should state that the dimit was granted on the day when the Lodge acted on his resignation.

In our opinion, therefore, when a Brochas asked a dimit, and the Lodge has voted it, he is no longer a Member of the Lodge, hut an unaffiliated Mason.

If he afterwards commits an offence against Masonic least, he is no longer a Member of the Lodge within whose jurisdiction he residues.

The Lodge cannot instruct the Secretary not to issue the certificate; because that would be to instruct him not to give a statement of a fact appearing on the wrote in April 1886, to St. James Lodge, on the subject of the ballot:

The same Committee says, reviewing a great many cases of Masonic discipline, and we note among other of their decisions adopted, one which reverses the verdict of a Lodge acqualiting one of its members, and orders it to convict him and caped him. This proceeding is almost too horrible to contemplate, and for the reason assigned in a similar case, in another part of this report, we must energetically protest against such injustice, and such disorganizing interference in the affairs of Subordinate Lodges.
